Hi All,

When leaving the Planning Board meeting last Monday night (11/27/06) a few PB members mentioned that I had really been slacking on my recaps of late. I retorted that given the big bucks I'm paid my lapse has been inexcusable so... it's back to the grindstone for me. Hey, be careful what you wish for boys.

Seriously, the Planning Board couldn't have been nicer but, of course that rarely makes me nicer and I do have a few bones to pick. But overall a very cordial meeting.

Before attacking (poor choice of words) the agenda a brief set-up. Imagine my horror when I arrived at 7:25 to find (cue 'Jaws' theme) Don Rossi and Michael Liguori (Attorneys of Hogan and Rossi fame) sitting in the back row. The back row is strictly tree hugger turf. And no, the room wasn't packed (almost empty actually) and these guys never, ever sit in back so I do the only mature thing I can think of, smile sweetly (ok, ok just smile), say hello and then sit directly in front of them. With no other CRSE members or other assorted activists in sight it dawned on me that I'm gonna be solo for the evening. Gulp. And, to add insult to injury, in walks the always debonair Mr. Lepler and sits next to Mr.'s Rossi and Liguori. Scheesh, it's a good thing I no longer sport a pony tail.

On my way out the Planning Board asked where all my 'buddies' were- I told them I'd been summarily dumped. Chairman Rorhman quipped that he was quite sure I could handle everything on my own.

The agenda was relatively tame although sometimes it's the seemingly small stuff that can be impossibly annoying and illustrate the differences between applicants and how they are treated. Check out the two proposed road dedications and Penella as cases in point.

As always the snippy, uncalled for commentary is mine alone. It's only my opinion which really shouldn't matter much to anyone. My comments and opinions represent no groups to
